

Legendary Leader™

Direct. Mediate. Coach.

Every good manager, in the quest of personal and professional growth, looks to external resources for advice, guidance, and insight. This willingness to seek out new knowledge and ask for feedback from respected sources can be invaluable in the development from manager to leader.

As a leader in training and business solutions, Signature Worldwide has worked with thousands of leaders, teams and top-notch executives across the country, and discovered that the most admired and inspirational leaders are attuned to what is going on in the moment, both externally and internally.

Signature's Legendary Leader™ course covers:

- Natural behavioral tendencies and how to consciously adapt as varying situations arise
- Leadership actions needed to create win/win relationships and get legendary results with a team
- Five questions that will help an individual become a legendary leader
- Leadership traps and how to get out of them
- Leadership habits vs. leadership rituals
- Personal accountability.

Becoming a legendary leader starts with understanding yourself and the impact you have on others. Legendary leaders are strongly centered so that the chaos of the external environment doesn't interfere with their wisdom and good intentions. This ability to be completely aware and focused in the moment enables leaders to have enough energy to handle stress, to have a clear head to focus, and to make good decisions.

Description

This one- or two-day training session takes leaders at all levels on a quest of personal and professional growth. An online assessment allows the class to be personalized for each participant, while he or she learns to identify and adapt natural behavioral tendencies; lead teams to legendary results, identify leadership traps, distinguish between habits and rituals; and become more personally accountable in a leadership role.
