

Negotiating Value™

Strengthen Your Negotiation Position

Being an effective negotiator takes knowledge, planning and courage. Negotiating is not selling. And, it is not giving discounts.

In Signature Worldwide's Negotiating Value™ session, participants discuss what negotiations are, what they are not, and what factors affect them. They will learn to recognize buyer characteristics by what is said and how it is said, and to create a negotiating strategy to deal with them. In addition, time will be spent on practicing their strategy.

Strong negotiators know how to ask high impact questions and to uncover knowledge while holding back their own, to gain an advantage. During this one-day session, participants will learn how to use knowledge obtained from The Johari Window and apply it to one of their real clients.

Signature is confident that your sales team will benefit from this powerful session. Ask yourself the following questions.

- Are your sales people confident in their interactions with potential clients during the closing process?
- Are they quick to give concessions?
- Do they negotiate with price rather than value?
- Do they know the value of the concessions they offer?
- Do they maximize profit while maintaining the relationship and respect of the buyer?

We will help your staff perfect the skills needed to provide positive answers to these questions and more, to strengthen the client relationship at the most crucial part of the sales process – the closing.

Description

This training session teaches participants how to strengthen their negotiation skills. In a team setting, the participants will learn the concept of prioritizing which concessions to offer and explore possible options for the client. Finally, they will learn to be a better closer while negotiating from a position of strength.

Who Should Attend?
